

Logopak UK help Insulate Britain..

with latest installation at leading manufacturer of glass mineral wool insulation products

Logopak International Ltd have installed two more industrial print and apply labelling machines at a leading manufacturer of glass mineral wool insulation products in Scotland. Two Logopak 920 labellers were installed on this state of the art production line, one machine automatically labels every roll after it has exited the wrapper, and the second machine automatically labels every pallet with two logistics labels, so that the pallet can then be tracked throughout the supply chain. The 920 series of labellers feature an 8" print head and up to 1200m label reel capacity, meaning it is one of the very few automated pallet labelling machines that can print and apply A4 labels. Logopak International Ltd are the UK division of Logopak Systeme, the inventors and leading manufacturer of industrial print & apply technology.
